#YourFutureWithABP

We handle
£149 billion
worth of goods

That's why we're the UK's leading port operator

Welcome to the biggest and best

The port industry in the UK is the second largest in Europe and Associated British Ports (ABP) is the largest port operator in the country, with 21 ports around Britain.

ABP's ports include Immingham, the UK's largest port by tonnage, and Southampton, the nation's second largest container port, as well as the UK's number one port for cars and cruise. Every year, ABP handles around 25% of all UK seaborne trade - more than 85 million tonnes of cargo.

Collectively the ports handle around 1.4 million containers, 1.7 million vehicles and around 3 million cruise and ferry passengers each year. We also own and run Britain's busiest inland rail terminal, Hams Hall.

Leading the way in looking ahead

We're committed to innovation, which is why we've invested over £100 million in new technology and state of-the-art facilities since July 2016. We're taking the lead in safeguarding the future of the British Maritime industry by supporting the government's Maritime 2050 initiative and working closely with government and supply chain representatives to help Britain continue to compete on a global scale.

In fact, our current investment programme promises to further increase our contribution to regional economies around the UK. There's no better time to join our business and grow your career with us.

Doing our bit

As the UK's leading port operator, we have a responsibility to make a difference. We're working hard to improve gender parity in our industry by supporting initiatives such as Women in Manufacturing and the Women in Maritime Taskforce.

We're also committed to reducing our carbon footprint - we've invested in electric vehicles, alternatives to plastic, and we're on track to become one of the UK's largest corporate producers of renewable energy.

Our ports contribute £7.5 billion to the UK economy

We are looking to take on seven graduates for the following positions:

- Port Management
(Southampton)
- Port Management
(Humber)
- Port Management
(Cardiff)
- Property Management
(Cardiff)
- Hydrographic Surveyor
(Cardiff)
- Commercial Management
(multiple locations)
- Project Management
(multiple locations)

The programme starts in September 2020 and will run for two years. During those two years, the graduates will undertake several placements across at least two locations, covering various aspects of the different functional environment.

Successful candidates will be given wider development opportunities, such as project management, health and safety, leadership core skills throughout the duration of the programme, all with the support of a senior mentor.

The programmes will be very challenging, offering a unique opportunity to develop a range of key skills that will be essential to a successful career with ABP.

Our Graduate Locations

We're looking for graduates in the following locations:

Southampton

The UK's largest cruise port, built to handle the biggest ships in the world.

Humber

Our largest region, offering a wide variety of opportunities.

Cardiff

One of the nation's major ports and a critical trading hub for businesses in Wales and elsewhere in the UK.

Other ABP locations

We also have a head office in London and 11 Short Sea Ports located across 4 UK regions.

The graduate training programme is open to existing employees and external candidates. The closing date is the 23rd March 2020.

We're responsible for over
85 million tonnes
of cargo every year

That's a lot to handle.

Who we're looking for

We're looking for talented graduates with the potential to become future leaders in Port Management.

As a future leader, you'll need excellent people skills, with the ability to lead and inspire people at all levels. Based in our fast-paced hubs and surrounded by various industries, you should have the ability to learn quickly, adapt and grow, all while showing resilience and determination.

If you are ambitious and have a passion to develop a career in port management, have a degree (min 2:1), can be flexible on location and are prepared to challenge yourself, learn quickly and work hard – our graduate training programme could be the right fit for you.

Our people Keep Britain Trading
